

Dr. Sean O'Mara

Executive Biology

By Selective Referral

Worldwide Access. Exceptional Care.

Clients of Dr. Sean O'Mara may be selectively referred to an elite global concierge medical team composed of former White House physicians and other highly experienced medical specialists. Their expertise in “concierge” primary care, complex medical coordination, specialist access, and, when necessary, international medical transport complements Dr. O'Mara's preventive and performance-focused work in Executive Biology. The two practices collaborate and exchange clients when their respective expertise can provide a higher level of care, access, and support.
